

CORRESPONDING SOCIETY
DESCENDANTS OF ROGER TERRILL of Milford, Connecticut

Volume IV, Number 1

S P R I N G 1 9 9 2 D O R N E W S L E T T E R

How many times have you heard, "It's a small world!" Members Janice and Edmund Healy of Aloha, OR proved this all over again. After our DOR newsletter (Fall 1991, Vol III, No. 3) that published the 1646 resident map of Milford, CT, the Healys found out that their ancestors were neighbors in Milford 350 years ago! Janice descends from Joseph Baldwin (#52 on the map) and Edmund from our Roger (#49 on the map). Not only did the Healys discover their ancestors were neighbors, but Janice also discovered that her good friend, Ruth Bishop, had a Milford ancestor, Henry Lyon, (#26 on the map) who was also a neighbor! As Yogi would say, "deja' vu all over again." Edmund descends from great-grandparents Olivia⁷ Terrell (Horace J.⁶, Ichabod⁵, Oliver⁴, Josiah³, John², Roger¹) and Fernando Healy.

Another small world report comes from member Jane Davies Coven who relayed that she discovered that her lifelong friend, Elizabeth (Benham) Swiers, is related to her through their common ancestor, Josiah³ (John², Roger¹) Terrell. That would make them sixth cousins. Their mothers, Mayme (Hill) Davies and Eleanor (Bachtel) Benham were also longtime friends, having met c. 1910 when Eleanor came from Medina to Elyria, OH to work in an insurance office and boarded with Mayme's mother (Jane's grandmother). Eleanor's marriage to Howard Benham made the ancestor link. Cousins Jane and Elizabeth are all smiles.

More smiles with the news from member Jeanne Turrell McKinley about her daughter, Robin. Robin is a published author and comes into frequent contact with many interesting people on her trips throughout the United States and abroad. The happy result of several of these trips is her engagement to an English writer, Peter Dickinson. She plans to be married in April in England at Peter's lovely country home in Hampshire. As Jeanne says, "The story of Robin and Peter is very exciting and romantic--could have been lifted from the pages of a novel." A spring bouquet of best wishes to the happy couple.

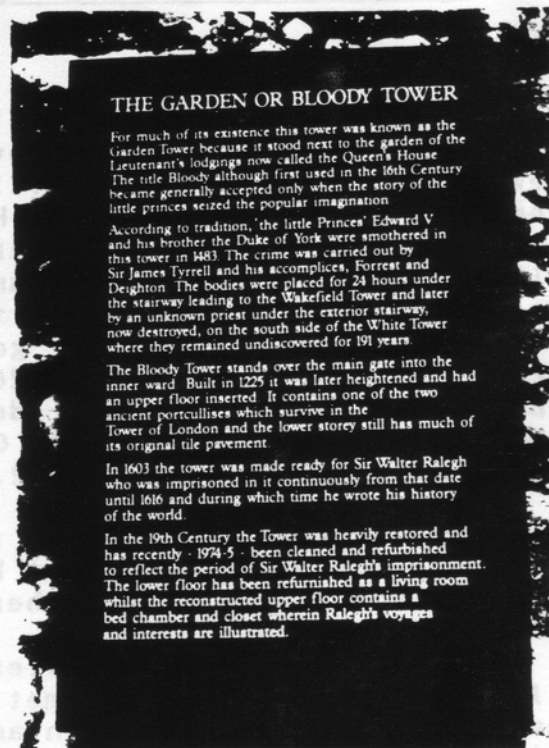

Another happy event added a new link to the family chain with the birth of Rebecca Jean on January 7 to member James Robert (Jim) and Tammy Fleming of Tampa, FL. Jim descends Nancy¹⁰ Tyrrel, Harold Robert⁹, Isaac Newton⁸, Philander Lorenzo⁷, Philander Laurel⁶, Ichabod⁵, Oliver⁴, Josiah³, John², Roger¹. Hugs to Rebecca and her proud family.

Donna Northuis reports she found some Irish Tyrrels on a trip she took last summer. "As our bus drove through County Clare in mid-Ireland, our tour guide, Kathryn, announced that the village through which we were passing was called Tyrrepass where in 1495 Captain Tyrrel defeated the British army. The village was of stone houses and church. At the end of the village she pointed out the small (about 4-5 stories) tower, and noted the definition of Tyrrel. From 1450 through 1650, the tower home with surrounding stone wall and chapel was a popular style of architecture among the well-to-do, like a small castle. Eventually this style came into disuse, and today one can see about the landscape ivy covered ruins of the tower homes.

"A book found in Ireland called The Surnames of Ireland, by MacLysafht describes Tyrrel as being of Anglo-Norman origin, having come to Ireland in the 12th century where Tyrrepass and Tyrreltown were built, becoming one of the most prominent of the "Old English" Catholic families; the name gradually spreading south and east. At present the Tyrrel families have large land holdings in Clare. I also got a snapshot at the Tower of London with a rather notorious Tyrrel name on it which I'm sending along."

Right is the snapshot Donna took of the sign that tells the unproven legend surrounding the death of the princes in the tower.

Member Bramwell Terrill reports that he had triple by-pass heart surgery in January and says the doctors and nurses all say "you're looking fine!" DOR warm wishes for a continued speedy recovery.

A special DOR thanks to member Don C. Terrill who provided The American Genealogist Index for the Terrill family included in Volumes 25 and 26. This page was purposely laid out so that it can be removed and folded pamphlet style. Don has also made an Index of names for the first three years (Volumes) of the DOR newsletter. You can order this Index for $1.00 to cover postage, envelope and copying costs.

Member Diana Mayes shares that she is now a member of the Colonial Dames through our Roger and was told that she had opened a new line. She is pleased that both she and Roger are now included in that august Society.

The membership list will appear in the next issue of the newsletter. Those of you who have paid your 1992 dues of $10 will have "92" on your mailing label. Those members who do not have the "92" need to pay their dues in order to keep their membership active and to continue receiving the newsletter. Please make your $10 dues check payable to NANCY TYRREL THEODORE - DOR. Thank you. And thanks to all of you who shared items with DOR. Space precludes publishing everything, but look for your contribution in future newsletters. ntt

MORTALITY SCHEDULES

FROM U.S. CENSUS FOR 1850 - 1885

The following information was obtained from compiled LDS records and the information contained in each column is as follows: First is name of deceased; second and third are county and state where death occurred; fourth is age at decease; fifth is sex; sixth is month of decease; seventh is place of birth including foriegn born, i.e., EN for England; eighth is cause of death; ninth and tenth are page and date of census. As for the random "X" found throughout after the name, it seems to be found for some of those who died in MS appearing in the 1870 and 1880 census, so perhaps these records were damaged or hard to read.

TERRILL - JEFFERSON DAVIS CONNECTION

Our thanks to DOR member Bruce Tyrrell of Canada for sharing the story of the connection between Frederick William⁸ Terrill of Quebec (Hazard Bailey⁷, Joseph Hazard⁶, Lee⁵, Timothy⁴⁻³, Roger²⁻¹) and Confederate President Jefferson Davis.

According to The Terrill Family In Quebec, "Probably the first Terrill to come to Quebec was Lee B.⁵ Terrill (Timothy⁴⁻³, Roger²⁻¹) who arrived with most of his family about 1799. His eldest daughter Hope did not come with him. She married Rowell Hendee and their grandson became a Governor of Vermont in the early 1900's. Lee's sister Olive came about the same time with her husband Aaron Mallory. Mallory Street in Stanstead, Quebec is named after them. Stanstead is a town of about 700 a few miles north of the Vermont border.

"Lee B.⁵ Terrill had many descendants and a substantial number of these are still living in Quebec. Among the family members who made important contributions to life in Quebec were Hazard Bailey⁷ Terrill, his brother Timothy Lee⁷ Terrill, and his son Frederick William⁸ Terrill.

"Hazard Bailey⁷ Terrill was born 8 Dec 1811 in Sherbrooke, Quebec. He studied English, French, and Classics at Quebec City. He then studied Law and started a law practice at Stanstead Plain in 1836. The following is a quotation from the book The History of Stanstead County, Province of Quebec, by B. F. Hubbard, published 1874:

'In 1851 he was elected to represent Stanstead County in the Provincial Parliament and began his political career with the most brilliant prospects of success and usefulness, but was cut down and died of Asiatic Cholera at Quebec, October 29, 1852 in the 40th year of his age.

'Mr. Terrill became early distinguished for his legal attainments and abilities, and at the time of his death was among the very first of the profession in Canada. His active and comprehensive mind seemed at once to grasp any legal point before him. With jurisprudence and with the politics of our country he was equally familiar, and as an advocate was a formidable opponent. In person he was tall and elegant, rather inclined to corpulency; voice clear and pleasant; articulation distinct, and his address prepossessing and commanding. If he had lived to the usual age of man he must have become eminently distinguished in the highest departments of public life. In his private life he was tender and affectionate, kind and indulgent, and a valuable citizen. In early life he married Laura daughter of A. Franham of Hardwick, VT.'

"Timothy Lee⁷ Terrill was born at Sherbrooke Quebec in March 1815. He studied law under his brother Hazard Bailey Terrill and was admitted to the bar in 1840. In 1850 he married Harriet Chamberlain. When his brother died in 1852 he succeeded him in the Provincial Parliament being elected without opposition. He was re-elected in 1854, 1856, and 1858. He retired in 1861 because of ill health and devoted his attention to farming.

"Frederick William⁸ Terrill was born 2 Dec 1836. He graduated from the University of Vermont. He married first, Ellen Louise Kendrick in 1863. They had one daughter, Maude, who died in girlhood. He married second, Annie MacIver. They had five children. Frederick died 12 Feb 1902 at Robinson (now Bury), Quebec.

"Frederick, like his father and uncle was a lawyer. He practiced in Sherbrooke and Montreal, Quebec. He had other business interests and was the author of a book A Chronology of Montreal and Of Canada from AD 1752 to AD 1893.

"Jefferson Davis the Confederate President lived for several years in Lennoxville, Quebec and the two men became business partners and close personal friends. Thanks to Okill Stuart, a grandson of Frederick, I have a copy of a longhand letter dated July 18, 1870 from Jefferson Davis in Memphis, TN to F.W. Terrill. Okill has also provided me with a copy of a report dated 1 August 1867 written by a Charles Robb mining engineer, to 'Hon. Jefferson Davis and F.W. Terrill, Esq.' It concerns the Westbury Silver and Copper Mines." [See copy below of letterhead with salutation to Terrill and close with Davis's signature.]

NOTE by Bruce Tyrrell: The above is based mainly on the research of my aunt Margaret (Tyrrell) Jerome (1867-1935). Margaret⁹ (Josiah⁸, Ebenezer⁷⁻⁵, James⁴, Daniel³⁻², Roger¹) was born in Bothwell, Ontario, but lived most of her life in Michigan. She was active in DAR and in genealogical societies and spent considerable time travelling in the United States and Canada researching the family history.

Okill Stuart, an 8th cousin with whom I made contact through the Quebec Family History Society, has provided me with copies of letters, newspaper clippings, etc. on this branch of the family.
